TOKYO RESTAURANT

A DOUBLE ATTRACTION

TOTAL EXCELLIUM ECONOMY RUN

TV PROGRAMME

HIMALAYAN ROAD SIGNS

THURSDAY AUGUST 16TH, 2018

AT 7:00P.M

The Tokyo Restaurant is located in Lavington on Kolloh Road. If you are approaching Lavington from Waiyaki Way, pass the first Shell service station on your left and continue to the next Shell service station at the Lavington shopping centre. Turn left into Kolloh Road and shortly afterwards you will find the Tokyo Restaurant on your right. There is ample parking at the Restaurant.

It is hoped the attached sketch map will help to guide you to the Restaurant.

The August get together will feature a double attraction consisting of a short TV programme on the Total Excellium Economy run and a showing of amusing Himalayan road signs which were photographed during Shailesh Chandaria's holiday in the Himalayas last year.

There will also be a briefing on the calendar of events for the remainder of the year and news from Alfa Romeo.

Members who arrive before 7:30 p.m will be included in a lucky draw for a desirable prize and there will be the opportunity to purchase Club merchandise and purchase raffle tickets.

A GREAT BIG THANK YOU

A great big thank you from Club members to Peter Wanday and Kamene for hosting an excellent Chairman's lunch at their Runda residence. The guests demonstrated their enjoyment of the occasion by socializing well into the afternoon before leaving reluctantly for their homes.

SHOCK VERDICT

Under the heading, "Shock Verdict" the Autocar magazine recently reported on a comparative test of the Porsche Macan and the Alfa Stelvio. After a lengthy road test on roads varying from country lanes to motor ways the article concluded, "Keen drivers with their hearts set on an SUV should look first to the Stelvio Quadrifoglio".
